

Club Environmental Officer's Workshop

Mountaineering Ireland encourages all affiliated clubs to appoint a Club Environmental Officer (CEO) to help raise environmental awareness within their club. CEOs don't need lots of expertise, just enthusiasm and a bit of curiosity! As part of her role as Mountaineering Ireland's Hillwalking, Access and Conservation Officer, Helen Lawless, provides support and arranges workshops for MI's expanding network of CEOs.

Several workshops are organised in different areas of the country each year. Helen will often run a CEO workshop at one of MI's Events such as the Spring or Autumn Gathering. A typical workshop combines some time indoors but also plenty of time out on the hills focusing on the specific theme of the workshop.
